Catalog of brake pads and brake rotors Audi A3 2010

The Audi brake rotors are primary components in the brake system, the surface upon which the brake pads are pressed to create the friction that slows and stops the motion of the vehicle wheels. The brake pads are squeezed against the Audi rotors by the caliper when the brake pedal is depressed inside the vehicle, and are released from the surface when the pedal is let back up, allowing the ...

The brake pad warning light is designed to come on when the front brakes wear down to about 25% left on the pads. It is triggered by an insert in the pads that has two wires attached. The wiring and pad is part of a ground loop that starts at the instrument cluster, goes through both brake pads and to ground.
