Turns out that it's an Italian-made Morini Franco S5-series motor. There's some good info at www.morinifrancousa.com about the different motors they made and the different companies that used their motors. I quickly determined that what I had was an S5-series motor. Through that website and a few other I was able to learn the different S5 models.

Morini Franco Automatic S5 Engine 50cc . This engine is the most popular, from the late 1960's, up until 2001, and used by many various motorcycle manufacturers, it is unusual because the kick-start lever goes forward (opposite to a normal bike). The S5 has a vertical cylinder with the carburetor bolted on to it.
