History » Harrismith Forum

Harrismith was a major base during the South African (Anglo-Boer) War and visitors can see the several blockhouses, engineering works and a military cemetery that are evidence of this. The town's main street, Warden Street, is named after Major Henry D. Warden, at that time a British resident in Bloemfontein.

Harrismith - Wikipedia

The town of Harrismith was founded in 1849 and was named after Sir Harry Smith, a former British Governor of the Cape Colony who tried to persuade the Voortrekkers not to abandon Natal. The Free State town also served a major
